President Finnegan Reports Increase of 334 in Two Years-Biennial County Convention Held Here-Cornelius Donohue of Mystic Elected President—Resolutions Passed on Home Rule Bill Relief Measure.

JAMES J. FINNEGAN. Retiring County President

Nearly 50 delegates from Norwich, New London, Mystic, Stonington, Jewett City and Taftville, gathered in Woresters' hall on Sunday afternoon for the twenty-second biennial con vention of the Ancient Order of Hipernians of New London county, when bernlans of New London county, when reports of the officers were heard and the election of officers to serve the coming two years took place. At 2:30 o'clock County President James J. Finnegan of this city took the chair and called the gathering to order, welcoming the delegates to the Rose of New England.

Welcome from Mayor.

Welcome from Mayor. His Hener, Mayor Timothy C. Mur-phy, a member of Division No. 1, A. O. H., was present and in well chosen words welcomed the visiting delega-tions to the city and convention. His tions to the city and convention. His remarks were enthusiastically received, Mayor Murphy on Saturday had displayed at his residence on Williams street the Irish an dAmerican flags in recognition of the passage of the Irish Home Rule bill.

State President William T. May of New London spoke encouragingly on the marked growth of the order throughout the state and county and Col. John P. Marphy, expresident, spoke on the early conditions of the order and the up-to-date method of conducting conventions at the present time.

Gain of 334, Members. County President Finnegan then submitted his report which was ap-proved and ordered placed on record. When County President Finnegan took When County President Finnegan took office on October 20, 1812 the membership numbered 674. In 1914 to date the membership is 1008 a gain of 334 in the past two years. In 1912 the treasury of the eight divisions in the county contained $10,000 and there was personal property of $1400 making a total of $11,400. There is now in the treasury of the eight divisions $11,500

The legislature has expressly declared under Section 2323 of the General Statutes, that all notes, bonds, and stocks, not issued by the United State, moneys, credits and choses in action, belonging to any resident of this state, shall be set in his list in the town where he resides at their actual valuation, except when otherwise provided.

Hence, it is clear that all such bonds are taxable, unless it can be shown that the legislature has enacted some general statute or special charter provision exempting the same. I find no general statute granting such exemption; and, while I have not had time to read al of the special charters under which a great many of said corporations exist. I feel very confident that none of them exempt bonds from traxation.

Therefore, subject to the above exception, I am of the opinion that all bonds of electric light, gas and manufacturing corporations are taxable in this state.

Wery truly yours, (Signed) Jno. H. Light, Att-General.

A good company was present and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the message; the text was "Bear ye one another's burdens," and "Every man must bear his own burden."

The speaker said in part that life was full of burdens and the only way to make them easy is for each to assist the other in bearing his burden. Many of our burdens are very heavy, but when many help there is but a little bit for each to bear.

But there are some burdens which we must bear alone; no human being can assist us. The burdens of the heart we must usually bear alone; many a man with a smilling face carries with him a heavy heart; many a man goes along the street whistling
